Cliff Warner

Contemporary Figurative Expression / Staffordshire. England

Incorporating the philosophy of wabi-sabi, Cliff skillfully navigates the interplay of imperfection and transience in his art. His chosen palette of colours is a conscious selection, each hue meticulously picked to resonate with specific moods and to evoke an ethereal atmosphere. This symphony of shades not only mirrors his engagement with positive introspection, but also echoes the Japanese aesthetic of finding beauty in imperfection and simplicity.

Above: A digital composite featuring six framed original Cliff Warner paintings

We currently have 18 original Cliff Warner paintings available, many of which are influenced by his visit to Milan Fashion week in 2022, after an invite from the photographer, Nick Knight.

A few of Cliff's originals are framed and hanging in the gallery, however, many exist as unstretched painted canvases, just waiting for someone to fall in love so they can be framed to the client's specification. Please note that framing is included in the price for most of the artworks available from Oil Art Advisory.

As the end of the year approaches, all of our local art-framers tend to get really busy, especially going in to December, and hence, a ten day turnaround for an unstretched canvas can become six weeks or more. So please place your orders for Cliff Warner originals before the end of October if you want to guarantee a UK delivery in time for Christmas, and even earlier for non-UK shipping.
